

Brand Guidelines

Kez.

Who?

Kez. If we're being professional it's Kezie Todd but otherwise Kezie is hard to spell so don't sweat it.

What?

Creative monster.

I speak in  person.
st

The Tone is...

- + Casual, concise, and friendly.
- + Informal but never impolite.
- + Honest but positive and engaging.

why?

Mission...

Apply the personality of illustration to design and make the people see the world in a new way. Practical can be fun, cute can be creepy, and everything has a story.

Vision...

To use visual storytelling and problem-solving to grow in the design field and show that fun does not mean pointless.

Values

1

Solutions

In the simple and the surprising.

2

Enjoyment

Functional and fun for the best user experience.

Personality

Everything has a story to tell.

4

Work Ethic

Give 100% and put effort into every project, big and small.

5

Consistency

Every project should be high quality work to make you proud.

A large, stylized light blue L-shaped graphic that frames the text. It consists of a vertical bar on the left and a horizontal bar at the bottom, with a small diagonal cutout at the top-left and bottom-right corners.

Kezie Todd

The Wordmark is...

- + Sharp and Geometric.
- + Professional but characterful.
- + The connector between the monogram and visual marque.

Use when...

The goal is to convey the name of the brand in the simplest fashion and introduce either the monogram or visual marque.

Kezie Todd

Use:

with monogram

Default

Align below monogram when introducing brand/monogram.

Horizontal

When there is limited vertical space or in letterheads.

LOUD.

How does that look?

It looks like Futura. Sometimes that's bold, sometime it's medium, and occasionally it's book. Choose wisely.

Why?

Because Futura is geometric, both round and sharp, curly and angular. It should be presented as bold but friendly, with the visual quirks emphasised

Never Enough?

The secondary palette is fluid. Designs should follow the primary three colour palette pattern but the highlight colour may change. Contact me for details and possible usage of additional colours.

Base Measure

Use the width of the 'T' in the monogram as a base value and calculate padding and margins from there.

Minimum

The base margin should never be smaller than 30px, regardless of monogram size.

Letterhead

Make use of visual extensions for different stationary applications. For a professional letterhead, the monogram and not the visual marque should be used.

Business Cards

The monogram can be abstracted for varying business card designs. Depending on the application, a secondary colour may be substituted for the blue.

Business Card Sizing

Visual Extensions

Visual extensions may be created using graphical devices from the monogram. Any variety of angles and patterns may be used but the arrow in colour must be present.

Images and Their Use...

Or not. In material representing the brand, simple vector graphics and illustration should be used. Photographs should only be used if necessary or when representing actual work.

Photorealism?

Never. If photographs are used they should be surreal, modified, or presented in a fashion that clearly sets them apart. Nothing that would break the immersion in the world of the brand.
